This course is designed to help the restorer be better prepared to perform their Inspection and Documentation so that they can clearly TELL the STORY. Students will learn how to:

- establish rapport with customers
- apply S500 requirements and recommendations
- properly use inspection and monitoring equipment and tools
- more efficiently use equipment by more clearly understanding the equipment operation
- gather the required information in order to TELL the STORY
- report the information so that it more clearly explains the restoration process that was used
- better support your invoice through good documentation and communication
- interpret their own data (internal audit)
- answer questions before there is a need to ask
- reduce risk
- get paid faster with less negotiation
